Mayor visits Devaraja Market

Says demolition best choice: Proposal will be sent to Government on Monday

Mysuru, Feb. 7 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), which is hell-bent on demolishing the century-old Devaraja Market and the tenants, who are paying rent to the MCC for shops and slots in the Market are set for another showdown over the issue of demolition.

The final proposal to demolish the Market will be sent to the State Government for approval on Monday, said Mayor Tasneem Bano, who visited the Market this morning. It was her maiden visit after she was elected as the Mayor recently. She was accompanied by Deputy Mayor C. Sridhar and other officials.

Even as the tenants were insisting that the Market can be repaired and restored, the Mayor told them that demolition was the best alternative than repairing and restoring the structure.

The Council has decided to demolish the structure and reconstruct the building keeping its heritage value in mind. Even the Court of Law has asked the MCC to demolish and rebuild the heritage structure.

Traders of Devaraja Market had moved the Court against the proposed demolition but the Court has instructed the MCC to provide alternative arrangements to the traders. The Court, while giving the go ahead for the demolition, instructed the MCC to rebuild the structure by retaining its heritage parameters, Tasneem Bano told the traders.

Ruckus in Lok Sabha over

Rahul Gandhi's remark on PM Modi

New Delhi, Feb. 7 (UNI)- The Lok Sabha was adjourned for more than an hour this morning after it witnessed a ruckus over Union Health Minister Dr. Harsh Vardhan's statement during the Question Hour condemning some remarks that Congress leader Rahul Gandhi made while addressing an election rally in Delhi.

Dr. Harsh Vardhan interrupted the proceedings of the Question Hour to condemn the remarks by Rahul Gandhi, prompting the Congress MPs to protest. Speaker Om Birla tried to stop the Union Minister. Harsh Vardhan, however, continued with his statement of condemnation. Congress MP Manickam Tagore was seen moving towards the front row of the Treasury Bench where the Union Minister was speaking from. Speaker then adjourned the House till 1 pm.

Addressing an election rally on Wednesday, Rahul Gandhi said that Modi would not be able to come out of his home after six months as the youths would beat him up with sticks and make him understand that the country could not progress unless he provides employment to them.

Though Speaker was conducting the proceeding of the Question Hour, Harsh Vardhan rose abruptly and started reading out a statement from a piece of paper. He said he would like to first "unequivocally condemn the outlandish remarks" of the Congress leader against Prime Minister.

Parliamentary Affairs Minister Prahlad Joshi said, "After Rahul Gandhi's instigation, they thought of showing the 'danda' way. There was an attempt to manhandle Dr. Harsh Vardhan. This shows the frustration level of Congress and height of goondaism."

Managing Vs Preventing

One of the most widely-known management educator and author, Peter Ferdinand Drucker (1909-2005) whose guiding principles continue to be used by managers worldwide, believed that managers, above all else, be leaders. He was among the first to depict management as a distinct function, with distinct responsibilities to boot. While human beings find themselves in the throes of problems most often self-inflicted and have no option other than either resolving the problem through the use of intellect or managing the situation in order to not succumb, animals, not necessarily getting into tight situations, are governed by the principle of survival of the fittest, apart from drawing from the factor of instinct. The ultimate truth about the difficulties faced by human beings in particular and all life forms in general has been expressed succinctly by the legendary Kannada playwright T.P. Kailasam (1884-1946) in these words: Suffering yembudu sarvatra, satmele avugalinda mukthi (problems are universal, redemption comes only after death).

When it comes to our health, the wise advice is prevention is much better than cure. Several diseases are preventable and can be managed much better if identified earlier. Mysuru-based popular wellness messiah Dr. B.R. Pai is never tired of telling his audiences on various platforms that prevention is the only cure, his signature statement. People of past generations, long before the advent of modern practices and tools of diagnosing and treating illnesses, would have perished but for their intuitive understanding of the factors causing health problems.

If one launches oneself on the exercise of listing the problems of multitude nature, personal as well as societal, a virtual cornucopia of problems bugging human populations all over the world is sure to emerge. Taking a pot-shot at such a list, a few problems suggest themselves in a flash, ranking them in their order of hurting life of people can be a fascinating exercise. Firstly, we are more people in the country than its life-supporting resources can be accessed. Secondly, we have brought more motorised vehicles of all descriptions on the roads than allowing comfortable cruising and keeping ambient air quality within norms. Thirdly, we have manufactured products based on plastic and made them indispensable to the extent of creating a situation that even an army of Druckers can manage.

Secretary General of United Nations, Antonio Guterres has rightly observed that the international community spends much more time and resources managing crises than preventing them. The proverb "What can't be cured must be endured" is often quoted as a retort to somebody who complains about various problems—RIP.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

In December, vast hordes of locusts invaded the fields of Rajasthan and Gujarat, devouring crops and destroying farmers' livelihoods. There is a change in the way locust invasions are happening and this has to do with unseasonal rainfall, not just in India, but in the other breeding grounds of this insect — from the Red Sea coast to the Arabian Peninsula, Iran and Rajasthan. This insect grows exponentially and an average locust swarm, believe it or not, can have 8 million critters, which can devour as much food in one day as 2,500 people or 10 elephants. In the first breeding period, locusts increase by 20 times; in the second, by 400 times and in the third breeding period, by 16,000 times.

Man shares bed with wife's remains for 16 years !

Vietnam: Unable bear the loss of his beloved wife, a Vietnamese man dug up her remains, sealed them in a plaster sculpture and has been sleeping in the same bed with her for the last 16 years. Van and his wife were married in 1975. They had seven children and led a frugal but peaceful life, until one day in 2003 when Van, who was working away from home, got news that his wife had suddenly died. He rushed home, but barely got to see his spouse's face for a few minutes before she was buried.

Le Van spent most of his time, night and day, at the cemetery, sleeping on his wife's grave, but after a few months he started worrying about bad weather and rain. He decided that the best way to stay close to his deceased wife was to dig a tunnel into her grave, so he could sleep next to her. He started making a hollow statue in the shape of a woman, out of plaster, cement, glue and sand, and put his wife's remains in side. Then he placed the hollow statue on the bed and laid next to it. He has been doing the same thing every night for the last 16 years.

Couple livestream their wedding to avoid spreading Coronavirus

Singapore: A Singaporean couple who had recently visited a village in the same province as Wuhan, the epicenter of the Coronavirus epidemic, livestreamed themselves to their own wedding from quarantine, to prevent spreading the dreaded virus. The newly-married couple had visited the groom's mother in a village in Hunan, the same Chinese province as the city of Wuhan, where the Coronavirus epidemic reportedly originated from, and decided that it was best to quarantine themselves. As cancelling the wedding on short notice wasn't really an option either, so they decided to compromise and livestreamed themselves.

Glitch hits OTP-based property registration

- Immovable property transactions hit since Feb. 5 due to snag in 6.8 software patch
- Today too, no registrations on Kaveri software; people inconvenienced

Mysuru, Feb. 7 (RK&BCT)- The new One-Time Password (OTP)-based system of property registrations, rolled out on Feb. 5 by the Department of Stamps and Registration for all property registrations through Kaveri software, has hit a technical snag and as such property registration has come to a standstill in Mysuru. The problem has been noticed in the '6.8 patch' of the software where the OTP-based system has been introduced.

Property registration process across all the 14 Sub-Registrar offices in Mysuru has been affected due to this technical glitch and the Centre for Development of Advanced Computing (C-DAC) in Bengaluru — which developed the software — has been working to resolve the issue.

The OTP-based system was introduced to prevent any attempts at impersonation and forgery of documents and has been made mandatory for all property registrations in the State. The initiative is aimed at preventing impersonation and other irregularities during property registration.

OTP-based security feature acts as a solid proof in the event of any attempts at impersonation or forgery of land documents. The system will alert the buyer and seller and also the authorities manning the Kaveri software if any fraudulent transaction takes place in the future. However, as soon as the system was rolled out across all the Sub-Registrar offices, the ground-level officers faced glitches while operating the Kaveri software.

Error messages are displayed on the 8.8 patch whenever the documents or phone numbers are uploaded into the software and the process drags on for hours, inconveniencing people who want to transact their properties.

In Mysuru, long queues were seen at the Sub-Registrar's offices on Dr. Rajkumar Road (East), Mini Vidhana Soudha at Nazarbad (North), near Vijayanagar Water Tank (West) and near Ramakrishnanagar Circle (South) where people were cursing the software update. Services were also affected at MUDA Sub-Registrar Office, Nanjangud, H.D. Kote, Hunsur, Periyapatna, Bannur, T. Narasipur, K.R. Nagar, Bettadapura and Mirle Sub-Registrar offices.

There has not been a single property registration at these offices since Feb. 5 and the Sub-Registrars have emailed their higher-ups about the problem and are waiting for an update from C-DAC. The software automatically shuts down at 5 pm usually when the government offices close and opens only at 10 am the next morning. Even today, there will be no registrations as the snag continues to hit the software.

Velluwadi-Chikkabargi route best alternative to bypass Bandipur Road

Mysuru, Feb. 7 (PM&KS)- Former Federation of Karnataka Chamber of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI) President Sudhakar N. Shetty has suggested Velluwadi-Chikkabargi Road as an alternative route to bypass the NH-766 that passes through Bandipur Tiger Reserve to reach Kerala. At present there is a night traffic ban between 9 pm and 6 am imposed by the Karnataka Government.

Kerala has been demanding Karnataka to lift the night traffic ban on NH-766 as the road connects Wayanad and Mysuru. The Kerala government had been insisting that the existing night traffic ban be bypassed on a 25-km stretch of National Highway 766 by cutting through a core part of the forest with an elevated corridor.

The Supreme Court had also upheld this night traffic ban. Currently, only a limited number of Government-run buses and emergency vehicles are allowed to operate during the restricted period on the stretch.

Sudhakar Shetty has suggested that the Velluwadi-Chikkabargi Road was the best alternative to end the dispute between Karnataka and Kerala. He said that he will be submitting a memorandum in this regard to the Central and State Governments.

A decision in this regard was taken at a meeting where it was observed that instead of National Highway (NH) 766, Velluwadi-Chikkabargi route from Sultan Batheri to Begur near Gundlupet was the best as the present proposed Kutta-Gonikoppa route also passes through forests and heavy traffic will affect the wild animals.

Wayanad Chamber of Commerce former President Johny Patani and team met Sudhakar Shetty at the latter's office on Devaraj Urs Road here and held a meeting where it was decided to submit a memorandum to both Central and State Governments to consider Velluwadi-Chikkabargi route as an alternative route.

Speaking on the occasion, Sudhakar Shetty said that the present proposed Kutta-Gonikoppa route passes through forest area including Nagarahole National Park and Wayanad Forest. A total of 25.5 kilometres of the present proposed route (Kutta-Gonikoppa) also passes inside the core forest area, he added.

He also said that the Kutta-Gonikoppa route would not serve as a connectivity route to Gundlupet and Mysore Airport at Mandakalli which in turn would affect Mysuru tourism.

The Sultan Batheri-Velluwadi-Chikkabargi-Begur route is only six kilometres which passes through the outskirts of forest area and hence both the Governments should consider this route as an alternative, Shetty felt.

Man who cooked tubers inside forest baffles Bandipur officials

Gundlupet, Feb.7(SOMG& BCT)- A man from Odisha spotted inside the Bandipur Tiger Reserve is giving sleepless nights to the Forest officials who are busy in creating fire lines to prevent forest fire during summer. The man in question has been arrested and has been handed over to Anti-Naxal Force that is operating in the Tiger Reserve to curb Naxalism.

The man was spotted inside the sensitive area of the forest and he was captured by the forest watchers inside the core area. On checking, the guards found cooked roots and tubers, clothes and bread from his bag suggesting that he was living inside the forest since some time and has the means to extract and cook food.

This has baffled the Forest Department who are now checking how this man managed to enter the core area in an unauthorised manner where every person is checked. Officers told Star of Mysore that the man was brought to Maddur Range Forest Officer's office and then questioned. The Officers then learnt that the man had come from Odisha.

Officials said that the man looked like a deranged person and they are probing whether he was a Naxal activist who has come to recce the forest area or a hunter who is looking for a kill. Officials suspect that since he had boiled roots and tubers, he has a good knowledge of forest food and knows how to survive in extreme conditions. The Anti-Naxal Force has been informed and the person has been handed over to them for further investigation, said Bandipur Tiger Reserve Director (Project Tiger) T. Balachandra.

Last year too, one person from Jharkhand had gained unauthorised entry into the Tiger Reserve and he was spotted at Kundkere and Kadaboor areas. Even he looked like a deranged person and the officials had let him off without any investigation. Within days, last year, forest fire originated at Kundkere and thousands of acres of forests were reduced to ashes inside the core area of Bandipur Tiger Reserve.

This year, officials are not taking any chances and are screening all visitors and suspicious outsiders are being frisked and questioned. Special check posts have been set up with the assistance of the Police personnel.

Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway Works

Two labourers buried alive as earth caves in

Maddur, Feb. 7 (Nagaiah, ACP&KS)- Two labourers were killed after they were buried alive while at work on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway expansion in front of the Agriculture Department Office in Maddur last evening.

Rider killed as bike rams into goods vehicles from behind

Mysuru, Feb. 7 (YDS&KS)- A 20-year-old youth was killed en route to the hospital when he reportedly rammed his vehicle into a goods vehicle from behind near Kodanahalli Gate on Mysuru-Nanjangud Road last night.

The deceased is N. Mahadevaswamy, a resident of Chennaodeyanapura in Gundlupet taluk.

Mahadevaswamy was proceeding on his bike from Nanjangud to Mysuru at about 11.30 pm on Thursday, when he rammed the bike into a goods vehicle that was moving ahead of him. Mahadevaswamy, who suffered serious head injuries, was lying in a pool of blood, when South Highway Beat Vehicle Police personnel rushed him to K.R. Hospital where the doctors declared him 'brought dead,' according to the Police.

South Highway Beat Vehicle Police Personnel Krishnegowda, Chandrashekar and Narayan, were the ones who tried to save the life of the youth by rushing him to the hospital.

Gold smuggling

Three arrested;

Gold biscuits seized

Mysuru, Feb. 7 (YDS&KS)- The Mysuru South Police have arrested persons on charges of illegally transporting gold without valid documents and have seized eight gold biscuits worth Rs. 33 lakh from them.

The arrested are 30-year-old Sharath, 33-year-old Mithun and 33-year-old Tejas, all residents of NR Mohalla in city.

The South Police were checking vehicles at the Check Post near Bandipalya on Mysuru Nanjangud Road on Feb. 4 at about 7 pm when they stopped a car proceeding towards Nanjangud. Upon inspecting the car, the Police found gold nuggets weighing 801 grams being transported without documents and seized the gold nuggets besides arresting the three occupants in the car. The three accused were produced before a Magistrate last night, who remanded them to judicial custody.

A case has been registered at Mysuru South Police Station.

A Midsummer Night's Nightmare!

William Shakespeare, the immortal playwright, narrates a very delightful tale of joy and mirth in his comedy 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' which has remained one of his most popular works across the world even to this day, a full four centuries after his death. It portrays the events connected with the marriage of Theseus, the Duke of Athens, to Hippolyta, the Queen of Amazons. These include the very enjoyable adventures on a full moon night of four young Athenian lovers and a group of six actors who are manipulated by fairies inhabiting a magical forest. But the tale I am narrating here is of a Midsummer Nightmare that is set in the midst of our own, all-too-real lives.

In just a few days from now will start the mad clamour for school admission application forms across our towns and cities. Anxious parents or their representatives will be seen standing in long queues outside schools to lay their hands on the one holy scrap of paper which will make their wards eligible, not to enter with certainty but just to aspire to enter the hallowed portals of their dream destinations.

The desperation here is so appalling that helpless people, both rich and poor, will be found spending a full night in these queues, sleeping on the roadside, in the open air, on the mats, carpets and even cardboards that they bring along with them. This ugly tradition started when schools for some unexplained reason started rationing their serially numbered application forms and refused to accept photocopies of the same.

To beat this ordeal people soon started paying some poor and needy souls to block their places in the queues by taking over the night shift. Cashing in on this development some enterprising persons, without the least aspirations of getting their own children admitted anywhere began to brave the nightly ordeal to grab an application form each which could be sold later at a hefty premium. But they soon ran into trouble when schools before issuing forms began insisting on proof of identity that they were indeed parents of the children seeking admission and thus the flourishing racket died a rather premature death.

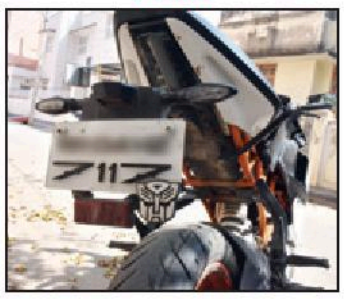
Now, since merely submitting an application form and registering it does not guarantee admission to any school, very often parents have to obtain application forms and seek admission to multiple schools in their neighbourhood to increase their chances of landing a seat. This makes it necessary for them to go through this ordeal of standing in queues overnight in front of many schools whenever application forms are issued there. Very often if the dates clash, the mother and father have to spend the night at two different places. My own friends and relatives have told me harrowing tales of their nightmarish experiences in procuring school admission forms for their little children.

Anyone with a little social concern will agree that this is a completely unnecessary and humiliating experience. It is simply not seen anywhere else in the developed world. It reminds me of the pictures of the era of the great depression which show people braving the chill winter and sleeping on the pavement in front of gruel centres to be the first to get a steaming ladleful of life-sustaining broth early in the morning.

Now, my simple question is, why should people be made to undergo this humiliating hardship of sleeping on the pavement with no facilities to ease themselves or even brush their teeth, just to get their children admitted to a school of their choice? Can't the schools simply sell their application forms for a reasonable fee with the stipulation that anyone can apply and then go through the screening process which alone will later decide who gets admitted and who does not? In this era of the internet the whole process can even be made online and thus paperless and hassle-free. The school managements can then be allowed to have a free hand to apply the yardsticks and guidelines of their choice to their selection process.

But somehow this simple logic does not seem to be making any sense over the years either to private school managements or to the authorities that oversee their functioning. That is why I feel it is time for the Government to step in here and introduce some dignity and decorum into the system that seems to be stuck way back in antiquity. Can we hope to see this happening with immediate effect?

Vehicles and Number Plates



It was announced a few weeks ago that our Traffic Police would launch an intensive drive against vehicles with defective or illegal number plates. I am not too sure if this has been done. But a recent report in Star of Mysore says that the Police personnel of just one traffic division, in a short span of just two hours, were able to book more than 1,000 cases against traffic violations and recover fines amounting to almost 1.65 lakh rupees. This can indeed be called a stupendous achievement. But there is no mention about any fines having been levied for illegal or defective number plates although other categories of offences find a mention in the press release.

It is common knowledge that a good many vehicles ply on our roads with clearly illegal number plates which cannot readily be read by people around. This makes precise reporting of offences very difficult. These days many people think that a vehicle number plate is a fashion statement and, therefore, add all kinds of embellishments around it. Some others alter its font from its prescribed straight forward form to something flashy and stylish, making it completely illegible. They perhaps feel that when they have bought a flashy vehicle that carries a hefty price tag and have even paid a premium price to select a registration number of their choice, on the advice of their trusted astrologer who too comes at a price, they have the exclusive right to write it as they like! That is why we see the number 8055 written as BOSS, as if by doing this the owner gets transported to a loftier state on the road. And, the simple single digit 7 is almost always prefixed with two zeros and sometimes even by the barrel of a gun in imitation of the James Bond movie posters of the yesteryears.

It is a different matter that the person driving such a vehicle was born a full two generations after Bond went completely out of business! But these fanciful souls are the ones who are erring on the lesser side. The real lords of the road are actually the ones who are seen riding or driving swanky vehicles for months after buying them without any number plates at all. And, they are the ones who whizz around without the least respect to traffic rules or to other road-users.

Yes, what else can you expect from someone who knows very well that without an identity it is almost impossible to nail him or her for any kind of offence or misbehaviour? Yes, there are hundreds of such vehicles and we see them flashing by like unguided or even misguided missiles every passing day. I wonder if the Police personnel see them too because I do not notice any decrease in the numbers of such numberless offenders!

Irwin Road Imbroglio

A report in yesterday's Star of Mysore says that the MCC is planning to seek a complete ban on traffic along the Irwin Road for a full four months to complete its widening process which has somehow been progressing at a pace slower than a snail's since the past four years. We all know very well that this road is not only one of the busiest conduits for traffic but it also has many clinics, hospitals, nursing homes and labs along its entire length which are frequented all through the day by patients.

Putting a complete stop to the movement of traffic on this road for a full four months means putting the sick people visiting these establishments to much pain and misery, denying them access to the medical care of their choice. This problem should therefore be viewed with some pragmatism before imposing the proposed blanket ban and I'm sure that there are ways and means of avoiding it. The widening work can be undertaken by banning traffic partially during the day along one side of the road and completely closing it only at night. But the one thing that should be ensured before undertaking any work on the Irwin Road is to ensure that all the alternate roads around it are completely cleared of all the humps, bumps, potholes, obstacles and hurdles that now make traversing them nothing less than a nightmare !

Five-year jail term, Rs. 50 lakh fine for ads promoting skin fairness

Govt. Draft Bill proposes stringent penalties compared to current law

New Delhi, Feb. 7 (UNI)- The Union Government has proposed to amend the Drugs and Magic Remedies (Objectionable Advertisements) Act, 1954. As per the Draft Bill prepared by the Government, it could slap a fine of up to Rs. 50 lakh and imprisonment up to five years for advertisements promoting pharmaceutical products for fairness of skin, deafness, improvement of height, hair loss or greying, obesity, among others.

Under the new draft of the Drugs and Magic Remedies (Objectionable Advertisements) (Amendment) Bill, 2020, a fine of up to Rs. 10 lakh and up to two years' imprisonment has been proposed in the case of first offence. In the case of a subsequent conviction, imprisonment may extend to five years and the fine, up to Rs. 50 lakh.

In the current law, the first offence subjects to imprisonment up to six months, with or without a fine, and up to one year for a second time conviction.

The present law identifies 'magic remedy' in the form of a talisman, mantra, kavacha, and any other charm of any kind which is alleged to possess miraculous powers for or in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of any disease in human beings or animals or for affecting or influencing in any way the structure or any organic function of the body of human beings or animals.

According to the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, it is proposing the amendment "in order to keep pace with changing time and technology."

The Draft amendments also proposes to expand the definition of an advertisement to "any audio or visual publicity, representation, endorsement or pronouncement made by means of light, sound, smoke, gas, print, electronic media, internet or website and includes any notice, circular, label, wrapper, invoice, banner, poster or such other documents: Provided that label or wrapper is an advertisement only if it contains any information or claim other than provided in the rules."

In the Draft Bill, the Ministry has proposed to prohibit advertisements of medicines and products purported to cure "any" of the 78 diseases, disorders or conditions it has specified. The previous Act had 54 such diseases, disorders and conditions. The Ministry has decided to solicit suggestions, comments or objections from the public or stakeholders with regard to the said Draft Bill. It may be forwarded within 45 days, says the Ministry.

Christina Koch returns to Earth after record-breaking Space Mission

Almaty, Kazakhstan (Agencies), Feb. 7- The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA)'s Christina Koch returned to Earth safely on Thursday after shattering the space-flight record for female astronauts with a stay of almost 11 months aboard the International Space Station.

Koch touched down at 0912 GMT on the Kazakh steppe after 328 days in space, along with Luca Parmitano of the European Space Agency and Alexander Skvortsov of the Russian space agency. The Kazakh Steppe lies at the southern end of the Ural Mountains, the traditional dividing line between Europe and Asia. Much of the steppe is considered to be semi-desert, grading into desert as one goes further south.

Koch was shown seated and smiling broadly after being extracted from the Soyuz descent module. "I am so overwhelmed and happy right now," said Koch, who blasted off on March 14 last year.

Parmitano pumped his fists in the air after being lifted into his chair while Skvortsov bit into an apple.

US President Donald Trump congratulated Koch on Twitter. "Welcome back to Earth, @Astro_Christina, and congratulations on breaking the female record for the longest stay in space! You're inspiring young women and making the USA proud!" he tweeted.

Local Kazakhs on horseback were among those to witness the capsule landing in the snow-covered steppe as support crews gathered around the three astronauts.

Koch, a 41-year-old Michigan-born engineer, on December 28 beat the previous record for a single space-flight by a woman of 289 days, set by NASA veteran Peggy Whitson in 2016-17.

Koch called three-time flyer Whitson, now 60, "a heroine of mine" and a "mentor" in the space programme after she surpassed the record.

She spoke of her desire to "inspire the next generation of explorers."

Koch will now head to NASA headquarters in Houston, via the Kazakh city of Karaganda and Cologne in Germany, where she will undergo medical testing. Koch's medical data will be especially valuable to NASA scientists as the agency draws up plans for a long-duration manned mission to Mars.

Four male cosmonauts have spent a year or longer in space as part of a single mission with Russian Valery Polyakov's 437 days the overall record.

We are no more disqualified, says Minister S.T. Somashekar

Newly-inducted Minister S.T. Somashekar, who visited the Suttur Mutt in city last evening, met Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji and sought his blessings.

Mysuru, Feb.7 (SBD&DM)- Hours after he was sworn in as a Minister in the B.S.Yediyurappa Cabinet, newly-elected Yeshwanthpur MLA S.T. Somashekar paid visit to Suttur Mutt here on Thursday evening and sought the blessings of Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji.

Later speaking to press-persons, Somashekar, replying to former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah's observation that they were disqualified legislators for ever, said that although the Supreme Court upheld the then Speaker's ruling disqualifying them, the Apex Court gave them permission to contest the polls. Accordingly, the then disqualified legislators contested the by-polls and won and hence their disqualification does not matter now. But Siddharamaiah has failed to realise this and is making unwarranted comments, Somashekar added.

Maintaining that the BJP High Command will look to any discontent in the party post Cabinet expansion, the new Minister said there was widespread discontent when Siddharamaiah headed the Congress government and when H.D. Kumaraswamy led the coalition Government too. Stating that he was delighted to be a minister, Somashekar said that following an invite, senior leader A.H. Vishwanath, who lost the by-polls, attended the swearing-in ceremony, while another by-poll loser M.T.B. Nagaraj could not be contacted.

Thanking Chief Minister B.S.Yediyurappa for keeping his promise of Cabinet berths to MLAs who were responsible for the formation of BJP Government in the State, he said that the CM has promised Ministerial berths to A.H. Vishwanath and M.T.B. Nagaraj in the coming days.

As far as Mahesh Kumathalli, who failed to make it to the Cabinet, is concerned, the CM will give him a bigger responsibility soon, he pointed out.

Replying to a query on his possible portfolio, Somashekar said that he will seek Bengaluru Development portfolio as he is from Bengaluru. However he would not insist on it, he said and added that he was ready to take up any portfolio that the Chief Minister assigns to him.

District Co-operative Union President H.V. Rajiv and other BJP leaders were present.

Party backstabbers will remain disqualified forever: Siddu

Former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah lashed out at newly inducted Ministers saying they will remain disqualified forever.

Speaking to press persons at H.D. Kote in the district on Thursday, Siddharamaiah said that those who backstabbed the Congress party and joined the ruling party are turncoats. The Supreme Court disqualified them and this tag cannot be erased even though they won the by-poll contesting on a BJP ticket. Pointing out that party backstabbers in any Government will always be termed as disqualified as per Law, the former CM said that though he was unhappy with disqualified legislators getting Cabinet berths, he would still wish them well.

Lashing out at Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa, he claimed that BSY does not have the freedom to expand his Cabinet and everything is controlled by the BJP High Command. He further said that Thursday's expansion was not complete as there are six berths still left and the disgruntlement in the BJP ranks may explode once the Cabinet is expanded fully.

MCC Ward 18 by-poll on Feb.9

Public campaigning ends

Mysuru, Feb.7- (RK&DM)- With just two days to go for voting (Feb.9), public campaigning for MCC ward 18 (Yadavagiri) drew to a close at 7 am today.

The by-poll was necessitated after BJP Corporator from the Ward Guru Vinayak was disqualified over fake caste certificate row. The MCC Ward 18 is reserved for ST Category.

The BJP has fielded B.V. Ravindra, while Swamy is the JD(S) candidate and R. Ravindra Kumar is contesting as the Congress candidate. Interestingly, the Congress and JD(S), who are ruling the MCC as coalition partners, are contesting separately.

With public campaigning coming to an end, the candidates are carrying out door-to-door campaign, making last minute efforts to woo the voters.

The ward comprises Yadavagiri, Manjunathapura and Medar Block localities. MLA L.Nagendra is leading the BJP campaign while former MLA Vasu is incharge of Congress campaign and City JD(S) President K.T. Cheluvegowda and former Mayor R. Lingappa are heading the JD(S) campaign.

The polling will take place between 7am and 5 pm on Feb.9 in 11 booths across the Ward. The counting of votes will be taken up on Feb.11.The by-poll will be the first test for the new Mayor Tasneem, as ward-specific issues are likely to play a key role in the electoral battle.

Proposal on Monday

Even the Expert Committee from Chennai and Karnataka State Technical Task Force had inspected the Market and confirming its dilapidated state, had also suggested demolition. Following this, the Council has passed a resolution declaring that the structure will be razed and a new heritage-like building will be constructed, the Mayor informed the traders.

For the MCC to send a proposal to the Government, it has to video-record the Market in its present state and send a proposal to the Government for approval. The Mayor directed the officials to send the proposal on Monday so that the dilapidated Market can be reconstructed. She reasoned that more than structures, human lives are important and if anything goes wrong, the MCC must shoulder the blame.

Stiff resistance

The Mayor's move met with stiff resistance from the traders and tenants who insisted that the Market can be repaired and restored. Calling the move illogical, the tenants said that there are more than 100 heritage buildings in Mysuru and the MCC logic should apply to all of them. They called for the acceptance of the recommendations of Heritage Committee that has asked the MCC to renovate and restore the building.

Tenants said that the MCC was not looking at the heritage value but was focussing only on commercial aspects and generating revenue most of the Devaraja Market complex was in a fairly good state. Only a few places on the terrace, roof slab need to be restored and this damage has been caused due to poor maintenance, they justified.

Fear of tenants

Inside sources, however, said that the tenants are opposed to the demolition as it will take at least two to three years for the MCC to demolish and reconstruct the building and tenants will be out of job till the works are complete. Tenants fear that the MCC will not make any alternative arrangements to them and they will be left in the lurch.

Another reason is that only 30 percent of genuine tenants have occupied the Market and the rest of the 70 percent have given them on rent, leased and even sub-leased the shops. Also, once the new Market is constructed, the tenants have to shell out more as rent and will not be cheap as it is at present, said sources adding that the tenants will oppose demolition tooth and nail setting stage for a confrontation with the MCC.

MCC Zone 6 Assistant Commissioner Geetha Udeda, Development Officer H. Nagaraj, Corporator M.D. Nagaraju, Environment Engineer Mythri and others were present.

Voting will take place between 7 am and 5 pm on Feb. 9 and counting of votes will be taken up on Feb.11. The Hunsur CMC has 31 Wards.

Speaking to press persons on Thursday, Tahsildar Basavaraj said that the Taluk administration is fully geared up for the polls. The poll expenditure is capped at Rs. 2 lakh per candidate, he said and added that adequate security measures are in place for ensuring a free and fair poll.

Ex-MLA lashes out at MLA Ramdas for stalling Housing Projects for poor

Mysuru, Feb.7(PM&DM)- Accusing sitting KR Constituency MLA S.A. Ramdas of the BJP of stalling construction of houses for the poor in city under various Housing Schemes, former KR MLA and Congress leader M.K. Somashekar staged a demonstration against the MLA in front of the Deputy Commissioner's Office here this morning.

Alleging that Ramdas has threatened the contractor, who came forward for construction of a total of 2,212 houses at Malalawadi (part of Jayanagar) and at Vishweswaranagar, taken up by Karnataka Slum Development Board, Somashekar claimed that Ramdas was coming in the way of the housing projects that he had got sanctioned for KR Constituency when he was the MLA in the previous Congress Government headed by Siddharamaiah. He also lashed out at Ramdas for stalling many other housing projects meant for the poor due to political considerations.

Incidentally, today is Somashekar's birthday and the protestors, who also included several beneficiaries of Government Housing Schemes, wished him by garlanding.

KPCC Women's Wing President Dr. Pushpa Amarnath, Deputy Mayor C. Sridhar, former Mayors Pushpalatha Jagannath and Ananthu, Corporator Gopi and others were present.

'Dhanurvainika Brahma' title conferred on Violinst HKN

Vid. H.K. Narasimha Murthy performing with Sindhu and Pruthvi recently at Nadabrahma Sangeeta Sabha where he was conferred 'Dhanurvainika Brahma' title.

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

In memory of Sangeeta Ratna T. Chowdaiah, Nadabrahma Sangeeta Sabha felicitates a senior violinist on the 19th of January every year. This is the day Chowdaiah breathed his last and on his death anniversary, his family, in collaboration with the Sabha, honours a senior Violin Vidwan with the title 'Dhanurvainika Brahma' and a concert by the honoured is arranged following the felicitation.

This year senior Violinist of the city, Vid. H.K. Narasimha Murthy, is the recipient of this award. Narasimha Murthy, fondly known as HKN, was also the recipient of the 'Nadabrahma' title of the same Sabha in January 2014.

Contributing with their expert skills

HKN is not only a top ranking Violinist but is also a great teacher who has produced several first rate violinists. The soul searching violin recital at the event with Sindhu and his granddaughter Pruthvi featured rare and popular ragas keeping the audience intact. The trio was supported on the mridanga by Ramanujam and on the ghata by Sharat Kaushik. With all the performers on the stage being Mysureans, it was a pleasure indeed.

Rising to the occasion, the trio played Chowdaiah's 'Prasanna Ganapate Pahi' in Bahudari set to Rupaka tala. Lively swaras were knit for the pallavi. A brief sketch of Kanada led to Swati Tirunal's 'Mamava Sada janani' in Kanada. HKN magnanimously let the girls play more and when Pruthvi developed Kumudakriya beautifully, his face was seen lighting up with pride.

'Deekshitar's 'Ardha Nareeshwaram' was played with all grandeur. The raga is attractive and the composition absorbing and the rendition was so synchronised that the audience swayed in delight.

The other highlight of the evening was Kambhoji, which Sindhu was allowed to play. Sindhu essayed the raga exhibiting aesthetic nuances. 'Shri Raghuvara Aprameya mamava' by Tyagaraja in Adi Vilamba was rightly presented in an unhurried manner, enhancing the beauty of the composition with swaras to the pallavi. Each of the artistes contributed with their expert skills. Ramanujam's proficiency on mridanga along with Sharat's ghata made the concert appealing.

The lighter pieces towards the end of the concert included Purandara Devara nama 'Hari Chitta Sathya' of Bombay Sisters fame in Jonpuri and the very popular ragamalika 'Baro Krishnayya' by Kanakadasa.

Through the concert, the three artistes enjoyed each other's music. More important, each adapted seamlessly to meld with the other's genre.

WORD OF THE DAY

Fissile

Pronunciation: FISS-ul.
Meaning: Capable of or prone to being split or divided in the direction of the grain or along natural planes of cleavage; capable of undergoing fission.
Origin: When scientists first used fissile back in the 1600s, the notion of splitting the nucleus of an atom would have seemed far-fetched indeed. In those days, people thought that atoms were the smallest particles of matter that existed and therefore could not be split. Fissile (which can be traced back to Latin findere, meaning "to split" or "to cleave") was used in reference to things like rocks. When we hear about fissile materials today, the reference is usually to nuclear fission: the splitting of an atomic nucleus that releases a huge amount of energy. But there is still a place in our language for the original sense of fissile (and for the noun fissility, meaning "the quality of being fissile"). A geologist, for example, might refer to slate as being fissile.

THE ODD WORD

Fainéant

Puppet ruler; do-nothing; idle person.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Fight fire with fire

Meaning: To retaliate with a similar form of attack that has been used against you.
Origin: This phrase is believed to have originated with fire-fighters, who will literally fight fire with fire depending on what method the situation calls for. That's right, using water is not always the best way to combat a raging inferno, sometimes other techniques are needed for success. One of these techniques that fire-fighters use, as mentioned above, is literally what the phrase states: they will fight fire by making their own. Yes, heat against heat! This technique is called backfiring and firemen typically use it to help control violent forest fires. The strategy, from what I understand, is to intentionally set a fire in front of the oncoming primary fire in order to create a "roadblock" of sorts. By burning away the nearby timber, the primary fire will have nothing left to fuel itself once it reaches the burnt out area. Thus, the primary fire becomes crippled and is prevented from advancing any further. Anyways, let's talk about this saying's age. This phrase makes an appearance in several newspapers from the mid 19th century, so we know it is at least that old. For example, in the newspaper The Rock County Recorder from the 1870s, there's a part that reads: "Some one has suggested that it might be proper to fight fire with fire on the prairies, but it would hardly answer to attempt this in an oil refinery."

QUOTE BOX

Keep a little fire burning; however small, however hidden.

— Cormac McCarthy
